

ProSales Magazine

Industry/Product Briefs

- Pella Corp. has issued a recall for about 6,500 Architect Series and 850 Series casement windows units. The window's hinge can break, causing the window sash to fall out and posing a risk of injury to persons beneath the window. Story
- LG Hausys Floors will launch an entirely new line targeted for the residential contract market. Until now, the company has been manufacturing resilient flooring solely for commercial use.
- GenTite Residential Roofing Systems has begun offering a line of commercial-grade, low-slope roofing products with a lifetime limited warranty. It also has launched a new website, www.gentite.com, for residential contractors, remodelers, and the DIY audience.
- Tile Redi, a manufacturer of pre-formed, one-piece shower modules, announced its products will now be available for purchase at all Standard Plumbing Supply locations in the Western United States.
- BuildTopia Inc., provider of Web-based residential construction management software, said CEO Beau Engman has become chairman of the board while Andrew Lee will join the company as president.
- Dennis Sullivan has joined the Ponderosa Software sales team at Computer Associates Inc. in Smithfield, R.I. Sullivan spent the past 26 years at Enterprise Computer Systems and worked for five years before that at Activant Solutions.