

Tile Redi

Tile Redi has launched a four-page, full-color company brochure to educate tile professionals on the distinct characteristics of the company's shower pans that allow ceramic or stone tiles to be adhered directly to the surface. This brochure educates readers on the benefits offered by the company's line of products that are reportedly mold-free and 100 percent leak-proof. The company will be releasing six industry-specific brochures, in order for builders, distributors, installation professionals, architects, designers and remodelers to learn more about the line of shower pans for water intrusion solutions.
